

MEPAF - Matching Energy Projects and Finance

innovative matching platform for southern Africa

You are a project owner or developer of renewable energy projects in southern Africa?

Your business plan is elaborated, and sound calculations show perfect potential?

Yet you need to finance your project?

You already secured some funding and request co-investors?

You want to get in touch with serious financiers?

You are a financier seeking investment options in emerging and developing countries, especially in Southern Africa?

You like to let your investments grow and drive returns?

However, you have higher ambitions and want to contribute to sustainable development goals?

Your investment should help to build a cleaner and fairer future and support the growth of renewable energy in southern Africa?

The investment strategy is clear, you want to find the right project owned by serious developers?

Here is, how MEPAF helps:

MEPAF stands for “Matching Energy Projects and Finance” and this is exactly what we do.

MEPAF is a digital platform that efficiently brings together owners and developers of renewable energy and energy efficiency projects (in southern Africa) with private financiers and financing institutions.

No more endless research: An automated matching process identifies partners based on inserted search criteria and elaborated quality assurance standards. Registered users undergo a verification process and supply tax clearance certificates, audit status and credit ratings.

Finding your perfect match is easy with MEPAF:

- Register on our platform
- Take some time to fill out your profile, give others an idea of what you do and what you want → The better the information, the better the match!
- Relax and wait for offers, in case you are the project developer, or
- Browse through a list of matches in case you are a financier. Decide which projects best fulfil your investment criteria and contact project owners and developers easily via our platform.

The creators behind MEPAF

The platform is a product developed by the Southern African-German Chamber of Commerce and Industry together with the German company DFIC – Dr. Fromme International Consulting.

The platform is hosted by the Southern African-German Chamber of Commerce and Industry and financed through the GIZ program Business Scouts for Development of the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development.
